

Resuming Face-to-Face Programmes

We are pleased to start resuming Aware's face-to-face programmes. We will continue to offer virtual options across all of our services but we feel it is also important to provide in-person options as the country reopens.

As we navigate this reopening, the safety of the public, our volunteers, our training partners and our staff remains of paramount importance to Aware. It is crucial that people feel safe and comfortable accessing and delivering our services.

To that end, in addition to adhering to public health guidelines at all times, we will be implementing the following procedures. These will be reviewed on a regular basis, taking into account government and public health and safety advice at that time. Aware training partners delivering face-to-face programmes are fully vaccinated against Covid-19.

Prior Requirements

- All participants of Aware's face-to-face programmes will be asked to confirm that they are fully vaccinated against Covid-19 during the registration process. If you are not vaccinated, we would encourage you to avail of the virtual options for this programme.

At the venue:

- Aware only utilises venues that operate in line with government and public safety guidelines.
- As per government and venue guidelines, all attendees will be required to wear face coverings in public areas. Once seated in the room, people are not obliged to wear face coverings but physical distancing will be observed.
- We ask all participants to adhere to public health and safety advice to protect themselves and each other.

We appreciate your support as we endeavour to reopen Aware's in person services safely.
